COLUMBUS AND DAYTON ENJOY HOPE FOR AVIATORS IS ABANDONED BENEFITS OF TAXI PRICE WAR

CAPITAL PROMISED DIME RATE SHORTLY AS BATTLE THRIVES

Dayton Campaign Has Cut Tax Rate To Quarter Now

COLUMBUS, O., March 16.—Taxicab rates in Columbus will soon be almost as low as street car fares, it was indicated today following new developments in the city's "taxi war."

Rate cutting began several months ago when one company introduced a price of fifty cents to any point within the city limits. Several others followed, abandoning the meter system for the flat rate.

Girl cab drivers, installed by the company which made the first cut, furnished the next innovation. The legality of permitting women to operate taxis was questioned by competing companies, but the courts held that a woman has as much right at the steering wheel as a man.

Then, several days ago, a new 25-cent company entered the fight. Now, the company which started it all, has countered with another announcement. Within two weeks, the company says, a new fleet of light, inexpensive taxis will be cruising the streets of Columbus.

The rate, according to the announcement will be ten cents.

DAYTON, O., March 16.—Another "drive" in Dayton's taxicab war was on today—to the detriment of the cash customers.

A recently established company announces that beginning today it will haul a passenger to any point in the city for twenty-five cents, with no additional charge for extra persons. Until several months ago, rates here were excessive. A series of slashes resulted in one company fixing a flat rate of thirty-five cents which stood as the low mark until today.

HOUSE COMMITTEE CONSIDERS NORRIS PLAN FOR SHOALS

Definite Policy May Result From Consideration

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The Norris resolution for government operation of the $100,000 Muscle Shoals project was taken up by the house military affairs committee today with indications that a definite congressional policy would soon be evolved.

The Norris plan, adopted by the senate, made the third proposal or development of the great power and nitrate project before the house body.

The Madden bill to lease the plant to the American Cyanamid Company for making of fertilizer and the Morin bill to lease the power plants and use the proceeds for department of agriculture experiments in fertilizer manufacturing and use are also pending.

Rep. Morin (R) of Pennsylvania, chairman of the committee, said that a committee probably would be rendered by Monday.

The government probably will be required to spend $100,000,000 more on the project under any scheme of development, Morin said. New estimates for building dam No. 3 and Cove Creek dam place the cost at $71,000,000 and floodway rights would mean $30,000,000 more, he said.

NEW CONCORD BEATS OBERLIN

COLUMBUS, O., March 16.—New Concord took first blood in the Ohio High School Basketball Championship class B tournament here this morning when the Muskingum County five came from behind and nosed out Oberlin by one point. The score was 13 to 12.

Oberlin, runners up of last year's tournament started the scoring early today and at the end of the first half had a 9-7 lead.

New Concord rallied in the third quarter and won the privilege of playing the winner of the Kunkle-Tippencanoe City game which began at 10 a. m.

Anderdon starred for New Concord with three field and two foul goals. Kruger and Powers were high scorers for the vanquished team.

BORAH CAMPAIGN TO RAISE CASH TO PAY SINCLAIR PROGRESSES

Senator Has More Than $5,000 Now; Rank And File Solicited After Committee Fails To Take Action.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Senator Borah's single handed campaign to raise sufficient funds to repay Harry F. Sinclair for the $160,000 in bonds he donated to discuss the plan today. Senators Curtis of Arkansas and Willis of Ohio, both candidates for the Rep. party 1920 deficit was in full swing. The Idaho senator decided to go after the contributions from the rank and file after the Rep. national committee had made no move to solicit such a fund.

More than $5,000 already has been sent to Borah. The money will be deposited in a bank as fast as it is received. For the time being, Borah will handle the contributions with his present office force but may engage helpers later if the contributions warrant.

Senate leaders are reluctant to help wipe out the Republican party's 1920 deficit was in full swing. The Idaho senator decided to go after the contributions from the rank and file after the Rep. national committee had made no move to solicit such a fund.

The Sinclair contribution was revealed by the Teapot Dome committee. Will Hays, ex-chairman of the Republican National committee for cash contributions the testimony disclosed.

BEAUTY MUST GO UNSUNG; BIG PAGEANT OFF

Atlantic City Has Called Halt To "Big Parade"

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 16.—Reluctantly, and after the most careful consideration, Atlantic City has turned thumbs down on the annual beauty pageant.

There will be no parade of beautifully young American girls in bathing suits along the boardwalk for the purpose of selecting a "Miss America" this year, or any other year. For, it has been decided, such spectacles are not truly representative of young American girlhood but are largely a conglomeration of girls seeking personal advertising and profit.

Instead, plans may be considered for some other form of annual event designed to broadcast the name of Atlantic City.

Beauty contests have come in for severe criticism and residents of the city have taken the matter to heart. The decision to do away with the pageants was reached after weeks of general discussion among citizens.

The ex-maharajah's love song, his friends said, was one without words and with music that only he and his fiancee could hear and understand.

This strange romance, which began in the United States, shifted to Europe when both happened to be visiting here at the same time. To his intimates in a select circle of Orientals and Europeans, the Indian prince was known as a very dandified man.

A woman member of this little group, whose title is scarcely known in America, but whose rank equals that of the former Maharajah, gave interesting details of the courtship to International News Service today.

"They—the ex-maharajah and Miss Miller—sat for hours at a time, facing each other without saying a word," said the informant. "I have seen them that way on terraces at Cannes, Geneva, Aix-la-Chapelle and other places. The Indian's gaze was more intense. Miss Miller's was more casual. The manner of parting was extraordinary. The ex-maharajah, while keeping his eyes intently upon those of his fiancee, would bend forward slightly and let his fingers rest lightly upon Miss Miller's wrist. At the contact he would rise abruptly and stride away."

This informant gave a different version of the couple's first meeting from that which has been published in American newspapers. According to the American version the couple became acquainted while the one-time Maharajah was traveling in the United States. The noblewoman said they met at General

Eva. Here is her story:

"It was in Geneva about a year ago. He was strolling around the gaming room of the casino when his eyes fell upon the tall, slender chestnut-haired girl. The effect was intense. Turning to one of his three aides, he said: 'I must know her. I am madly in love with her.'

"The ex-maharajah left the casino and retired to his suite, probably to have one of his aides read poetry to him, as is his custom when in a romantic mood.

"The 'muse courtship' began the next day after a formal introduction had been arranged. Thereafter Miss Miller, a woman relative and the ex-Maharajah were frequently seen together. The former Maharajah's first token of affection was a diamond studded watch and then a fancy solitaire set in a slender platinum ring."

Of the forty-seven members of the committee, twenty-seven were present, and the vote was 18 to 1 for Hoover. Homer M. Edwards, leader of the Willits forces in the county, declared the meeting was illegal.

On the other hand, Senator Curtis (R) of Michigan said he did not favor the idea, explaining that "Sinclair won't get a cent of my money."

The Sinclair contribution was revealed by the Teapot Dome committee. Will Hays, ex-chairman of the Republican National committee for cash contributions the testimony disclosed.

He arrived at Curtiss field, accompanied by Thomas G. Lamphier, commander of the first pursuit group, United States Army air service, and J. T. Tripp, they had flown from Washington.

DOG TEAM BRINGS RELIEF TO SNOWBOUND VILLAGE OF DETOUR

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., strain of a two-day journey of sixty miles, sought the first available shelter.

Dr. Deadman's achievement was all the more remarkable in view of the fact that he has only one leg.

A government transport plane was expected to hop off momentarily from here with 500 pounds of mail and 500 pounds of provisions. The plane will take two persons to the snow for their well earned rest.

Dr. Deadman, weary with the horses, husky and twenty-one, through consistent performance in the last twelve days of C. C. Pyle's coast to coast bunion derby and winning the Peach Springs-Seligman trek of 383 miles, today looked as the real dark horse of the transcontinental event as the field of runners swept on forty-two miles to Williams, perched up and above sea level. Payne's time for the 435.7 miles from Los Angeles is 74:46:12.

Arthur Newton, the Rhodesian rambler and leader in the race with a total time of 67:10:36 was loud in his tribute to Payne.

Newton's lead over Payne is 7 hours 35 minutes 42 seconds, while Dr. Arne Souniemi, Detroit medic, retains his hold on third place.

Seligman, 5,300 feet above sea level, played the good Samaritan to the runners.

Reports from Williams shortly before the runners were sent on their way this morning said that they would encounter four inches or more of snow there.

GIVE IT AN OPPORTUNITY TO PROVE ITS WORTH

Perhaps you belong in that vast group of motor car owners which feels that one kind of gasoline is as good as another.

In that case you can't have any serious objection to trying Schmidt Oil Co. Products for a while. According to your own theory they can't be any worse than the average, and you know there's a bare possibility that our theory might be right.

And what is our theory? You'd be surprised! We simply believe that if you were to use Champlin Gas exclusively, your motor would run more sweetly and your repair bills be much smaller and more infrequent.

We base our theory partly on the fact that Champlin Gas is actually very much finer than the average, and partly on the fact that it is never well to mix gasolines as you certainly do when you buy here and there and everywhere.

Try it! It can't cost you anything. You might gain a lot.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

FATHERS AND MOTHERS TEACHING — My son, hear the instruction of thy father, and forsake not the law of thy mother—Prov. 1:8.

DISCOURAGING INDUSTRY

The main danger of excessive taxation is not in its immediate cost in dollars and cents, but in its far-reaching effects upon industry. Business will go where it can prosper under reasonable taxes—the community attempting to extract unusual and unjustified taxes will find itself barren. Our American progress and prosperity is the result of a continued industrial and business expansion. Increasing legislation and taxes are steadily making such expansion more difficult.

An article in a Tennessee newspaper shows that effect of this situation. It says, in part: "Power companies are now seeking to invest more than one hundred million dollars in permanent dams and plants in Tennessee, on which they will pay property, privilege, and other taxes now levied by the state, the counties, and the towns. Threat of extra or special taxes has halted progress of these plans. They will have no market for the current sold under the excessive tax burden."

Such action as this must eventually stifle and destroy all that is best in the nature of American business. Wise citizens will do their best to see that the power of government is not used to such dangerous ends.

WHEN WATER CAUSES FIRE

Usually, when material is wet—thoroughly soaked—there is no need to worry about the possibility of fire. There's a "joker" in the pile though, when hay is the subject of the wetting!

A barn located in New Hampshire, during the flood in November, 1927, was particularly wet, being partially submerged. And it contained hay! The owner started to remove the hay when the water had subsided sufficiently, but spontaneous combustion beat him to it. Result—the barn burned to the ground.

Spontaneous combustion is perhaps the least understood of all causes of fire. That's probably the reason why it does so much damage (over $15,000,000 in 1926, according to figures computed by the National Board of Fire Underwriters).

Take your own home for instance. How about that cellar, that attic and that garage? Don't forget the clothes closets! Remove any piles of rags, paper or rubbish. Such materials may be oily or wet without your knowledge. If so, look out! You may wake up in the middle of the night and wonder how you ever got into such a hot place.

Better look around now before any damage is done.

MUST PAY FOR SHORTER WEEK

It has been announced that a determined demand will be made this year for a five-day working week. This means the sacrifice of older men, less keenly alert men, victims of past industrial accidents, everybody who could not stand the swifter pace. It means a few hours more leisure for the swift, though they pay at a greater nerve sacrifice and an earlier breaking point; but it means fewer jobs, with the slower worker a jobless dervish on every labor market.

To maintain present production on a shorter work week, is to make no new jobs; it only throws out men who cannot get jobs under harder competition. To cut production along with the cut in hours, in order to give new jobs, is to increase costs to everybody; a desperate hazard, almost certain to destroy any industry that tries it.

Speaking of the noiseless flapper, history doubtless proves the quiet woman has been the most powerful. Few long speeches are on record from the lips of any of the distinguished women of the world, from Cleopatra down—or up.

DANDRUFF AND IDEAS

A Chicago woman is suing for a million or more as her share of the proceeds from an invention of which she claims to be the co-inventor. It's a seed cleaning device. Suffering from dandruff, she attached a hair brush to a vacuum cleaner and let suction take away the dandruff. This helped her husband to invent the seed cleaning device. Like other inventions it started in a commonplace way—in someone's head.

FOR FARMERS

Washington reports farm labor will be available in a slightly larger supply, at least during the first half of the year. Farm wages and the prices of farm machinery are not likely to change, and building materials, when purchased in quantities, probably will be lower than last year. Now and then even a little good news for the farmer filters through.

NEW YORK, March 16, — So great is the demand for small moderate-priced apartments that New Yorkers are willingly signing leases on flats as yet indicated only in floor plans, or sketchily outlined by steel girders on high. This is true especially of a certain building over in east Fifty-fifth street, near the river and adjoining fashionable Sutton Place. The owners expect it will be finished in September, but many leases have already been signed.

The Daily News, dean of the tabloids, publishes every day a cheery little barometer captioned "Hands of Death." In a sketch simulating a clock face are recorded "the chief medical examiner's report of death by guns, autos and poison bottles" in New York since Jan. 1, 1928. In the event you are interested in such grisly statistics I will tell you that at the moment this column goes the printed 165 persons have been killed by automobiles in the city, 100 have expired after drinking illicit liquor and 47 have been shot. On the face of this information, New York sounds rather like a frontier town, but I must admit that six years or so day-by-day acquaintances with it has made it seem rather a tame town, after all.

Roxy's theatre at Fifth street and Seventh avenue, is known far and wide as a luxurious temple of the cinema. Rugs in Roxy's are thick and soft, couches are the old-time divans of Rome, pillars are gilded, real flowers bloom in the vases, ushers are richly caparisoned and gentle-mannered. Music plays dimly and voluptuously as a nimble orchestra vanishes in and out of the audience's view. And yet—and yet! I have discovered the fly in the amber, the spot on the damask, the Achillean heel of Roxy himself, perhaps. Just outside the stately telephone booths which line the foyer leading to the various retiring rooms, I was unable, the other evening, to decipher a single number I wanted on the pages of the telephone book. No shaded bulk hung discreetly over the directory enabling patrons to call their cooks, physicians, wives, sisters or sweethearts in Manhattan and the Bronx, or the Boroughs of Richmond, Queens or Staten Island, in a word, the lighting system of Roxy's telephone lobby is hopelessly inadequate. Certainly the young girl ushers ought to try to find their flashlights whenever a customer is seen toddling in the direction of the phones.

Ad lib pacifism should be encouraged. A well known star was kidding the orchestra leader from the stage at a recent performance. One of her questions was, "How many children have you?"

"Four," said the band.

From the gallery came appreciative applause.

"Don't encourage him," she warned the applauding ones.

FUNNY HUMAN TRAITS IN STORES

The manager of the musical department of a big store was telling me that most violin and guitar strings are sold on Saturday. On the other hand, he said, for some reason music teachers buy most of their sheet music on Monday. He didn't know why.

This department manager noticed a number of other odd human traits. Whenever a grown man buys a mouth organ, jew's-harp, kazoo, or tin pipe, he almost invariably makes the remark that it is for his little boy, or somebody else. Men feel apologetic over their ambition to play on certain types of musical instruments.

Almost every woman should begin at 25 to mildly bleach her neck. Necks do disolor rapidly, we all know that. Perhaps it is because of the fur and the colding of harsh collar. Perhaps because necks are invariably neglected.

Perhaps it is only because shapeliness and color is the only way to a neck to be beautiful.

We can rouge our cheeks, polish our nails and manicure our eyes, but what can we do for our necks? Whiten them! So by all means, remember, a bleaching soap or a bleaching cream to be used regularly two or three times a week, won't be half pretty if an ailing, sallow neck belies its beauty seekers.

The neck requires less care than the face. The very fact that the neck betrays age when the face is still youthful is a permanent indictment against short-sighted beauty seekers.

Roxy's theatre at Fifth street and Seventh avenue, is known far and wide as a luxurious temple of the cinema. Rugs in Roxy's are thick and soft, couches are the old-time divans of Rome, pillars are gilded, real flowers bloom in the vases, ushers are richly caparisoned and gentle-mannered. Music plays dimly and voluptuously as a nimble orchestra voloplains in and out of the audience's view. And yet—and yet!

I have discovered the fly in the amber, the spot on the damask, the Achillean heel of Roxy himself, perhaps. Just outside the stately telephone booths which line the foyer leading to the various dressing rooms, was unable, the other evening, to decipher a single number I wanted on the pages of the telephone book. No shaded bulb hung discreetly over the doctors enabling patrons to call their cook, physician, wives, sisters or sweethearts in Manhattan and the Bronx or the Boroughs of Richmond, Queens or Staten Island. In a word, the lighting system is hopelessly inadequate. Certainly the young maidens usher ought to turn on their flashlights whenever a customer is seen toddling in the direction of the phones.

Ad lib profanity should be encouraged. A well known star was kidding the orchestra leader from the stage at a recent performance. One of her questions was, "How many children have you?" "Four," said the bandleader.

From the gallery came appreciative applause.

"Don't encourage him," she warned the applauding ones.

FUNNY HUMAN TRAITS IN STORES

The manager of the musical department of a big store was telling me that most violin and guitar strings are sold on Saturday. On the other hand, he said, for some reason music teachers buy most of their sheet music on Monday. He didn't know why.

This same department manager noticed a number of other odd human traits. Whenever a grown man buys a mouth organ, jew's-harp, kazoo, or tin flute, he almost invariably makes the remark that it is for his little boy, or somebody else. Men feel apologetic over their ambition to play on certain types of musical instruments.

A father who says never a word about paying two hundred and fifty dollars for a piano for his daughter will dicker a long time when buying a violin for his son before paying a dollar or two more for a better instrument—this regardless of whether the boy shows the promise musically, that the girl does. The reason seems to be that the father feels he should buy a piano for the parlor anyhow; but the violin is an added expense that he hadn't been counting on, and will not add to the dignity of his home surroundings.

Most goods are sold in big stores in most of the larger cities at about 4:30 in the afternoon, than at any other time. Many women shop in the forenoon, but a far greater number look after their household duties in the morning and to their shopping in the afternoon. Along about 3:15 more women shoppers are on the street or looking about the various departments of the stores, than at any other hour; but they are doing more looking than buying. They wait until just prior to going home before finally making up their minds; and that is why the crest of the buying wave is reached at from 4:20 to 4:30. After that they have barely time to get home and prepare dinner before 6 o'clock.

In the departments selling such articles as pastries and candies, the biggest rush of the day set in around 5:30. And the buyers are more largely men than women, to gratify hunger, but taste is not the only factor.

I am convinced that half of the people who are overweight and who eat moderately at their meals are not in good health. You can put the blame on the government, and these government agencies are not to blame, but taste is not the only factor.

How to Achieve Beauty

By MME. HELENA RUBINSTEIN

HOW BEAUTIFUL IS YOUR NECK?

It is surprising to realize the intelligent people who devote hours of attention to their faces and forget all about their necks. How often have you seen an even littler of powder stopping just at the chin, and below the powder line, a darkly discolored neck and throat? Nothing detracts so much from the final ensemble as a visible sign of neglect. A pretty face won't be even half pretty if an aging, sallow neck belies its beauty.

The neck requires less care than the face. The very fact that the neck betrays age when the face is still youthful is a permanent indictment against short-sighted beauty seekers.

Almost every woman should begin at 25 to mildly bleach her neck. Necks do discolor rapidly, we all know that. Perhaps it is because of the furs and the coddling of harsh collars. Perhaps because necks are invariably neglected.

Perhaps it is only because shapeliness and color is the only way for a neck to be beautiful.

We can rouge our cheeks, polish our nails and mascara our eyes, but what can we do for our necks? White them! So by all means, remember, a bleaching cream or a bleaching cream to be used regularly two or three times a week, even if it is only a preventive measure. It is a little uncanny to see how well it works.

Peroxide and water or lemon juice and water are good bleaches.

Another radical and remarkably quick and effective bleaching treatment is the application first of cleansing cream, then of a golden bleaching stimulant which is a chemical circulation regulator and animator, followed by a bleaching cream which may also be used alone. This is an excellent neck treatment.

Another hint is for you to frame your neck. If it is soft and white you may either wear the straight colored fabric or a dainty white frilly collar—the very young always look charming with a soft collar. If the skin is noticeably discolored, keep away from white and select cream, tan, unbleached linen, etc.

PHILLIES ARE BETTER BECAUSE THEY CAN'T BE WORSE IS REPORT

Burt Shotton Optimistic About His Weaklings In First Year As Boss—Catching Still Good But Pitching Is Absent

(Editor's Note:—This is the eighth of a series of articles by Davis J. Walsh, dealing with developments in various major league training camps. Other articles of the series will follow.)

By DAVIS J. WALSH

i. N. S. Sports Editor.

WINTERHAVEN, Fla., March 16.

—Just for the sake of being agreeable, the writer walked up to Burt Shotton today and remarked that "they" meaning largely nobody in particular, had declared that Bill Kelley, his new first baseman from Minneapolis and Syracuse, wouldn't hit major league pitching. Mr. Shotton is a somewhat amiable soul, too.

"How the—do you know?" he inquired very pleasantly.

However, it may be well to say that the Phillies are better, first because they couldn't be worse, and second, because the statement is likely to be true.

The tip-off on the infield situation, a very depressing matter these many years, is that Shotton is trying to make outfields, of Russell Wrightstone, 1927 regular, and Bill Dietrick, from Portsmouth, Va., the prize exhibit of the camp.

He declared himself today as being at ease, over his first string infield, composed of Kelly, Lafayette, Fresco Thompson, of St. Louis, Helms Sand, of San Francisco, and young Whitney, of New Orleans.

"Kelley never showed me a bat-watching weakness when he was hitting all those home-runs in the International League," Shotton said. "I'm doggoned glad to get him. Thompson was the best young second baseman in baseball last year. Sand, at shortstop, has been coming on steadily. Whitney at third base looks like a find. He hasn't hit under .300 during the four years he has been in baseball."

Mr. Shotton didn't exactly say what was on it but he didn't have to. Everybody knows that he would give his windpipe for a couple of first class pitchers. He started out with one, namely Frank Ulrich, but the latter is just emerging from a Baltimore hospital.

The other regulars are Alex Ferguson, never as good as they thought he would be; Jimmy Ring, whom Shotton says didn't get a chance in St. Louis; Clarence Mitchell, the only left-hander in baseball with a spitter; Bob McGraw, another St. Louis fugitive, and Claude Willoughby, of Buffalo, Kansas, no less. They are not so good. In fact if Shotton's word on the infield is borne out, the pitching is the weakest feature of an indifferent ball club.

Hubert Prueett, Babe Ruth's ex-boy friend, still is on the paymaster's ballot but he is off coaching college baseball. This is particularly true in view of the fact that Shotton is much enamored of Ray Benge, a young right-hander from Waco and Huntsville, Texas. Shotton also has fair words for Lester Sweetland, a left-hander up from Spartansburg and Melbourne, Fla.

June Green, from Portsmouth, Va., and Greensboro, N. C., and August Walsh, for Pittsfield, Mass., have contrived to call down upon themselves some favorable notice. However, June and August probably won't last through April.

As long as Jimmy Wilson is available, the Phillies' catching will be something for some other club to worry about. John Schulte, another ex-cardinal is ready. Harry O'Donnell, the Philadelphia semi-pro, again will bulk up his way which means that Walter Wheat will go back to Shenandoah, Penna.

Barney Frerberg wins the gold handled Roman candle as utility infielder with Wrightstone and Dietrick always about for emergencies. The latter, however, is engaged right now in a triangular vendetta with Dennis Sothern, Washington, and Dennis Sothern, Washington,

Bowling

William Moorehead, member of the Downtown Country Club bowling team, established a new league record for individual high three-game total this season while his team was winning three straight games from the Chrysler Motors in a City League match Thursday night.

Moorehead was highly instrumental in the victory. He rolled games of 188, 217 and 223 for a series of 628. The former league record of 614 which has stood all season, was held by Earl Gannon, member of the Red Wing Co. quintet. The league leaders won each game easily. McPadden led the losers with 477. Both teams rolled with three men.

In another City League match the same evening, the Brown Furniture Co. came out of its long slump to defeat the Red Wings two out of three games. Whittington topped the winners with 568. Gannon had fine series of 611, 179, 161, three pins shy of his own league record for a three-game total.

CLERICUS SAYS, "Jesus insisted in putting the Bible first. He never faced a problem for which it did not provide a solution. Like the Pharisees many today make substitutes for the Bible as their guide, or look upon the Bible as antiquated—with many mistakes in it—and the authority and pre-eminence is doubted."

LESSON PRAYER—O Lord, we would first of all be possessed with a true spirit of sincerity, forbidding that we should allow forms and ceremonies as substitutes for the inner spirit of devotion and worship.

BOOK REVIEW

"DOES CIVILIZATION NEED RELIGION?" by Neithur, The MacMillan Company, New York, is a study in the social resources and limitations of religion in modern life.

"MEN OF MYSTERIES", by Ralph W. Sockman, The Abingdon Press, Cincinnati, $1.25. Are we losing the lustre of life in our make-or-break materialism? Are we devoting more facts than our minds are digesting? Are we exhausting the raw materials of religion? These are some of the questions Dr. Sockman discusses in stimulating the suggestive fashion using such striking terms as these: "The Paul Reverses of the Church," "Some Fundamentalists of Science," "Rap Van Winkle in Religion," etc.

Recent official reports place the grand total of cigarettes produced in the United States during 1927 at more than 27,999,000,000, or an increase of more than 7,000,000,000 over the total production in 1926 as a result of the constant increase of cigarette users among women.

Discussion on Questions S.S. Lesson

Jesus Teaches Sincerity—Mark 7:13 for Sunday, March 18.

1. Why did the Pharisees question Jesus and his disciples?

2. What are the tests of sincerity?

3. What are some modern formalisms?

4. Under what circumstances are forms right? Wrong?

5. In what ways may we make void the Word of God?

6. What is it that obscures Christ, steals attention from the Bible, makes prayer less attractive, drives out appetite for spiritual things, and takes refuge in monotony?

CLERICUS SAYS: "Jesus insisted in putting the Bible first. He never faced a problem for which it did not provide a solution. Like the Pharisees many today make substitutes for the Bible as their guide, or look upon the Bible as antiquated—with many mistakes in it—and the authority and pre-eminence is doubted."

LESSON PRAYER—O Lord, we would first of all be possessed with a true spirit of sincerity; forbid that we should allow forms and ceremonies as substitutes for the inner spirit of devotion and worship.

"DOES CIVILIZATION NEED RELIGION?", by Neibuh, The MacMillan Company, New York, is a study in the social resources and limitations of religion in modern life.

"MEN OF MYSTERIES", by Ralph W. Soekman, The Abingdon Press, Cincinnati, $1.25. Are we losing the lustre of life in our matter-of-fact materialism? Are we devoting more facts than our minds are digesting? Are we exhausting the raw materials of religion? These are some of the questions Dr. Soekman discusses in stimulating the suggestive fashion using such striking terms as these: "The Paul Reverses of the Church"; "Some Fundamentalists of Science"; "Rap Van Winkle in Religion", etc.

Jesus Teaches Sincerity—Mark 7:13 for Sunday, March 18.

After the feeding of the five thousand, Jesus continued performing miracles which increased his fame; this called forth the critical Pharisees.

Vs 1-2—"And there were gathered unto him the Pharisees and certain of the scribes who had come from Jerusalem, and said that some of his disciples ate their bread with defiled hands." This criticism was based upon traditional interpretation and not on holy writ. The purpose in coming to Christ was not sincere, hence their vision was blurred; they saw but they could not see straight. The disciples had been liberated from the fetters of formalism and looked at the things that had to do with the inner life.

V 5—"And the Pharisees and scribes asked him, why walk not thy disciples according to the tradition of the elders, but eat their bread with defiled hands?" These inquirers did not wish to know the truth; they wanted to entangle Jesus. No one can know the truth who does not seek it with his whole heart laying aside a critical spirit.

V 6—"And he said unto them, well did Isaiah prophesy of you hypocrites, as it is written." Jesus relied upon the Word of God for his answer. He called things and persons by their right name regardless of consequences.

V 7—"This people honoreth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me." They were not sincere in speech; they could speak beautiful words but they were filled with hypocrisy.

V 8—"But in vain do they worship me, teaching as their doctrine the precepts of men." They were insincere in observing the commandments of God in that they substituted tradition for the divine command; some no doubt were taken unawares as to traditions as these interpretations and rules were developed gradually and passed on by religious leaders from one generation to another. God and his word must be trusted first of all.

V 9—"And he said unto them, full well do ye reject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your tradition." Rejection of Jesus and his teachings follow when one bases his life and conduct on the mere teachings of men—be it philosophy, science or even Biblical interpretations when it is purely human.

V 10—"Ye leave the commandment of God, and hold fast the tradition of men." HOOVER WORKERS OPTIMISTIC AFTER RALLY IN SPRINGFIELD

Ohio voters who cast their ballots for United States Senator Frank B. Willis for president at the preferential primary will be voting for an "unknown candidate," declared Hazell Houston, Urbana, Hoover candidate for delegate at large from the Seventh Congressional District, at an enthusiastic rally of district Hoover Republican representatives at the Clark County Court House in Springfield Thursday afternoon.

Houston explained by charging supporters of Senator Willis are using the Ohio Senator's favorite son candidacy as a camouflage for the purpose of eventually bringing forth a "dark horse" candidate in opposition to Secretary of Commerce Herbert C. Hoover at the national Republican convention.

Thad H. Brown, former secretary of state, chairman of the Hoover campaign in Ohio, was present at the conference, which was also attended by 300 Hoover supporters from the district, comprising nine counties.

Paul H. Creswell, deputy Greene County auditor, district chairman of the Hoover campaign, presided over the meeting.

Brief talks were also made by Harry S. Kissell, Springfield, and Harold Houston, Urbana, Hoover candidates for district delegates.

Immediately following the public

rally, the district representatives held an organization meeting behind closed doors. It was later announced that plans were outlined for holding Hoover rallies in every county in the district until primary election day.

After being introduced as the principal speaker by Chairman Creswell, Thad H. Brown complimented the effective work being accomplished by the Hoover organization in this district. He also predicted victory for Hoover over Willis providing the voters go to the polls April 24, acquainted with the ballot.

The talk by Houston was featured by the declaration that "as far as I can learn, Willis is just the raft that his backers are going to reach the boat with, but we don't know which boat. It seems that men and women who vote for Willis will be dedicating their votes to an unknown candidate."

Dr. E. W. B. Curry, Springfield, colored delegate at large for Hoover, spoke briefly and promised the support of 200,000 colored voters in Ohio. He asserted that he was the first colored delegate at large designated since 1872.

Among the delegates and speakers introduced were Frank L. Smith, Xenia, chairman of the Greene County "Hoover-For-President" Club, and Dr. Austin M. Patterson, this city.

have been found to work efficiently when operated below the rated voltage on the filaments or heaters; but a slight excess voltage causes a big decrease in efficiency, and if this is continued the life of the tube is shortened to a marked extent.

Voltage regulators or compensators are being provided in some sets as means of overcoming large variations. Recent developments in these compensators have resulted in devices that will operate without ballast tubes, condensers, liquids or other inconvenient apparatus, and allow A. C. receivers to function satisfactorily on circuits which would otherwise be unsuitable.

The owner of an A. C. set that is being affected by voltage variation shouldn't blame the power company. There are a number of causes for variation. For example, the wiring in the building may not be adequate to handle all of the electrical devices connected to the circuits.

The number of electrical devices has increased by leaps and bounds in the last few years. The family that used to use "juice" only for lights, now has an A. C. set, a motion picture projector, a washing machine, an electric dish washer, a curling iron, a toaster, a foot-warmer, and probably an electric cocktail shaker. When two or three of the big current consuming devices is turned on, the voltage of this circuit as well as other circuits in the house is changed.

Owners of troublesome A. C. sets are finding that improvement can be obtained by having the house wiring inspected and reinforced where necessary to take care of large current drains. In some cases the outside circuits may be reinforced, too.

Radio sets in older sections of cities where only a D. C. "juice" supply, approximating 110 volts, is available, have a problem in operating powerful sets. One way to eliminate the obstacle is to install an ordinary A. C. set with a motor-generator outfit that can be stored away in a closet or in the cellar.

There are two or three manufacturers who make such a converting arrangement specially for this purpose.

Another solution of the problem, an expert point out, is to get one of the old time devices with brushes and commutator at either end of the armature, now available in second hand electrical shops, which run on 110 volts D. C. and give about 75 volts A. C. this may be stepped up to any A. C. voltage by means of a transformer.

HOOVER WORKERS OPTIMISTIC AFTER RALLY IN SPRINGFIELD

Ohio voters who cast their ballots for United States Senator Frank B. Willis for president at the preferential primary will be voting for an "unknown candidate," declared Harold Houston, Urbana, Hoover candidate for delegate at large from the Seventh Congressional District, at an enthusiastic rally of district Hoover Republican representatives at the Clark County Court House in Springfield Thursday afternoon.

Houston explained by charging supporters of Senator Willis are using the Ohio Senator's favorite son candidacy as a camouflage for the purpose of eventually bringing forth a "dark horse" candidate in opposition to Secretary of Commerce Herbert C. Hoover at the national Republican convention.

Thad H. Brown, former secretary of state, chairman of the Hoover campaign in Ohio, was present at the conference, which was also attended by 300 Hoover supporters from the district, comprising nine counties.

Paul H. Creswell, deputy Green County auditor, district chairman of the Hoover campaign, presided over the meeting.

Brief talks were also made by Harry S. Kissell, Springfield, and Harold Houston, Urbana, Hoover candidates for district delegates.

Immediately following the public

rally, the district representatives held an organization meeting behind closed doors. It was later announced that plans were outlined for holding Hoover rallies in every county in the district until primary election day.

After being introduced as the principal speaker by Chairman Creswell, Thad H. Brown complimented the effective work being accomplished by the Hoover organization in this district. He also predicted victory for Hoover over Willis providing the voters go to the polls April 24, acquainted with the ballot.

The talk by Houston was featured by the declaration that "as far as I can learn, Willis is just the raft that his backers are going to reach the boat with, but we don't know which boat. It seems that men and women who vote for Willis will be dedicating their votes to an unknown candidate."

Dr. E. W. B. Curry, Springfield, colored delegate at large for Hoover, spoke briefly and promised the support of 200,000 colored voters in Ohio. He asserted that he was the first colored delegate at large designated since 1872.

Among the delegates and speakers introduced were Frank L. Smith, Xenia, chairman of the Greene County "Hoover-For-President" Club, and Dr. Austin M. Patterson, this city.

Radio Revue BY C. KAY

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch
To The Gazette

NEW YORK, March 16.—Owners of the new A. C. (alternating current) receiving sets are learning what electric light companies have long known, that large voltage variations exist in most electrified homes. In many cases these variations are sufficient to prevent efficient operation of the new receivers.

In some of the receivers, the large variations in voltage are made manifest by changes in loud speaker volume. In sets equipped with voltmeter or ammeter on the receiving panel, the variation is, of course, apparent. Unchecked, the effect of the voltage disturbances is to shorten the life of tubes. Tubes using coated filaments have been found to work efficiently when operated below the rated voltage on the filaments or heaters; but a slight excess voltage causes a big decrease in efficiency, and if this is continued the life of the tube is shortened to a marked extent.

Voltage regulators or compensators are being provided in some sets as means of overcoming large variations. Recent developments in these compensators have resulted in devices that will operate without ballast tubes, condensers, liquids or other inconvenient apparatus, and allow A. C. receivers to function satisfactorily on circuits which would otherwise be unsatisfactory.

The owner of an A. C. set that is being affected by voltage variation shouldn't blame the power company. There are a number of causes for variation. For example, the wiring in the building may not be adequate to handle all of the electrical devices connected to the circuits.

The number of electrical devices has increased by leaps and bounds in the last few years. The family that used to use "juice" only for lights, now has an A. C. set, a motion picture projector, a washing machine, an electric dish washer, a curling iron, a toaster, a foot-warmer, and probably an electric cocktail shaker. When two or three of the big current consuming devices is turned on, the voltage of this circuit as well as other circuits in the house is changed.

Owners of troublesome A. C. sets are finding that improvement can be obtained by having the house wiring inspected and reinforced where necessary to take care of large current drains. In some cases the outside circuits may be reinforced, too.

Radio fans in older sections of cities where only a D. C. "juice" supply, approximating 110 volts, is available, have a problem in operating powerful sets. One way to eliminate the obstacle is to install an ordinary A. C. set with a motor-generator outfit that can be stowed away in a closet or in the cellar.

There are two or three manufacturers who make such a converting arrangement specifically for this purpose.

Another solution of the problem, an expert point out, is to get one of the old time devices with brushes and commutator at either end of the armature, now available in second hand electrical shops, which run on 110 volts D. C. and give about 75 volts A. C. this may be stepped up to any A. C. voltage by means of a transformer.

Fired . . . because he was always tired

IN EVERY walk of life you'll meet the "Drowsy Bills" . . . men and women who are losing out because they are forever tired. Young people they often are, in age—but old in energy. They try hard enough—but they are serving constipation too. The dread disease that can rob the strongest body of strength. That kills initiative. Wrecks health. That often handicaps with lasting disease.

The owner of an A. C. set that is being affected by voltage variation shouldn't blame the power company. There are a number of causes for variation. For example, the wiring in the building may not be adequate to handle all of the electrical devices connected to the circuits.

And isn't it a pity when a simple, healthful cereal could bring relief all the while? Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation promptly and safely. More—to prevent it from the start.

Nothing less than "ALL-BRAN" is 100% effective

Bulk or roughage relieves constipation naturally. ALL-BRAN furnishes healthful bulk in generous quantity because it is 100% bran. This bulk absorbs moisture and distributes it through the digestive system. Gently disengaging the intestines—exercising them—sweeping out wastes and poisons. It was as "Dorothy Stevens" that Beulah Annan died last Saturday in the Chicago Fresh Air Hospital from tuberculosis at thirty-two years of age. After three years of intermittent appearances on front pages of American newspapers she died in such obscurity that her death was not known for several days. ***

April 3, 1924, police, forcing an entrance into a Chicago flat, found Beulah playing a jazz record on a phonograph, while a few feet away sprawled across a bed, was the body of Harry Kalstedt. She testified that she shot him accidentally. Maurine Watkins, then a reporter for the Chicago Tribune, later developed from Beulah Annan's experiences the plot of "Chicago." NECESSITY FOR A RELIGIOUS EDUCATION URGED AT DINNER

"Within the last few years, the church has come to feel that the boys and girls are facing adult problems which they are not prepared to face. They are at an age when they want to know about life and we should put before them, things they ought to know. The whole world is spread before them constantly. They know the world situation, the problem of crime, sex, etc., they get from the news papers, movies and radio. These are things for them to think through. We simply must have a form of religious instruction that meets the problems of this present speed age."

These were statements of Miss Blanch Carrier, principal of the School of Religious Education, Dayton, O., who addressed a meeting held to advance such a school in Xenia, at Central High School, Thursday night.

Ministers, school and church officials, educators and others interested in the project attended the dinner-meeting.

"It is not a matter of more time, but a matter of providing instruction of a different type, take into consideration that the children today, need to be assured a wholesome religious life," Miss Carrier said.

"How can we, in this generation, teach the children of another generation, problems that we do not dream of that will exist twenty years more? Teach the children how to meet changes."

VICTORY CARNIVAL STAGED BY SENIORS

Elaborate preparations were completed by the senior class of Central High School for its "Victory Carnival," scheduled for Friday from 3 to 10 o'clock at the school.

Students were dismissed from school at 3 p.m. The entertainment arranged includes a picture show, both afternoon and evening in the auditorium, novelty side shows, gaily decorated "chance" booths with suitable prizes offered, and numerous concessions for dispensing of refreshments.

A "Jitney" dance will begin at 7 o'clock in the gymnasium. The orchestra committee, composed of Betty Montague and H. E. Schmidt has obtained a fine orchestra.

Contrary to the usual custom, the public is invited to attend the carnival, which promises to be the high spot of the school's social year.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Letters and miniature gold basketballs were presented seven members of Central High School's basketball squad and the senior manager at a special assembly in Jean B. Elwell Auditorium Friday, March 9.

The assembly opened with a musical program given by the Kentucky Harmony Singers, a talented colored group of colored women vocalists, which is on a tour of Ohio. This group gave a splendid program.

After the final number the band played the high school song and it was sung by the student body.

Faculty Manager E. G. Whitworth gave a short talk and turned the meeting over to Coach Victor Kolb. Kolb presented the letters and gold basketballs to the players who had participated in a sufficient number of quarters during the season to merit the rewards.

Players so honored were: Leroy Doak, Robert Buell, Robert Morton, John Glance, Joe Smittle, Edward Higgins and Captain William Clemens. In addition to Senior Manager Abe Rakoff.

Mr. Whitworth afterward presented Coach Kolb with a brief case in recognition of his services.

On Tuesday, March 13, the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. male quartet gave a musical program at the high school. The program included five numbers.

Proceeding this, Mr. Straus, Chicago, Ill., spoke on the safety campaign. He closed his talk with an appropriate poem and then introduced the quartet.

"HELLO GIRLS" LEARN SECRETS OF GOOD HEALTH

Girl employees of The Ohio Bell Telephone Company in Xenia are going to school to learn how to keep healthy and how to render first aid to the sick and injured.

Classes have been formed and are being held in the company's exchange. The course consists of one lesson a week for three months. Miss Isabelle Spratt, of Springfield, the instructor, took a special course in Cleveland before organizing the Xenia health classes.

"The object of the course is to teach the girls that it is easier to keep well than to get well," said Miss Spratt.

"We do not attempt to make nurses out of them, but only impart knowledge that every girl should have. Among the things we teach are correct nourishment of the body, proper exercise and balanced diet. Not many persons know how to diet correctly without losing strength."

"Other subjects that are taught are formation of good living habits, a correct mental attitude, the value of sunlight, fresh air and sufficient sleep; correct clothing, and care of the mouth, hair and teeth.

"We also give simple instructions in care of the sick and in first aid. The girls realize that this knowledge is likely to be invaluable in their home life, for they seem to be more enthusiastic over these parts of the course than any other."

H. W. Cleaver, Ohio Bell commercial manager in Xenia, said that a survey was made of a large number of girls who have taken up the course in Dayton and Springfield. The mark used to gauge results was the attendance figure, which shows the number of girls remaining away from work because of illness or disability. The records of the girls selected in the survey were compared to the records of the same girls during a designated period before the classes started.

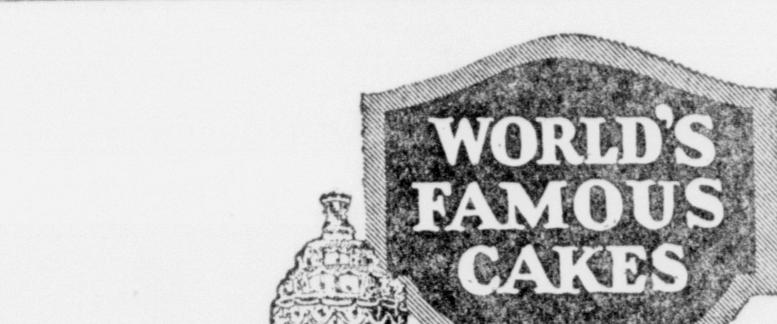

The survey showed that there had been a 35 per cent decrease in absence for minor illness and a 49.4 per cent decrease in absence for major illness and disability, according to the manager.

Another survey was made in Cleveland, in a different manner. Approximately 300 girls were selected. Half of them had finished the course and the rest were preparing to start.

Both groups showed a decrease in absence over a previous time. But while the decrease was five per cent among the girls who had not started the course, there was a 42 per cent decrease in absence among those who had completed it.

"The importance of health and its necessity for an active mind and more energy has been realized and these, if applied, make for a better employee and bring results for the employer," said Mr. Cleaver.

"We are not making these efforts with the thought that employees should be driven to take part in this health work, but to bring to their realization the benefits of good health. The fact that happiness is the outgrowth of good health has not been overstressed; it is only the wish of those who are sponsoring these activities that this truth be realized before it is brought home by bitter experience."

Treat your seed potatoes as fast as you can scoop them up. Just dip them in DIPDUST solution and out again—all ready to plant.

This new seed potato disinfectant is much more effective than the old-fashioned "two-hour soak" treatment—besides there is not the slightest danger of injuring the sprouts or even cut seed. This season treat blight attack in many seed producing areas makes treatment with DIPDUST necessary to prevent seed decay.

After one trial of DIPDUST, you will never again waste two hours treating seed potatoes or spend two weeks worrying about your stand. DIPDUST PROTECTS THE SEED AND INSURES STURDY, PROFITABLE PLANTS.

Compare this New Treatment point by point with the older ones:

THE NEW WAY

Dipdust Organic Mercury Disinfectant

1. Requires less than 1 minute. One man can easily treat from 200 to 400 bushels of potatoes per day.

2. Can be used on cut or sprouted seed without the slightest injury.

3. After cutting, protects the cut surfaces from seedrotting organisms in the soil. This insures a better stand of stronger plants.

4. Controls surface borne diseases, such as Rhizoctonia, scab and blackleg.

5. Improves the stand and growth of the plants, and thus increases the yield 10 to 20 per cent.

One pound treats 15 to 20 bushels of seed potatoes.

Treat your Corn and Vegetable Seeds Too

You can now also disinfect your seed corn and vegetable seeds with DIPDUST and increase your yield by preventing many of the diseases which cause poor germination, weak, spindly plants, and poor quality crop. Simply use as a dust treatment. It is easily and quickly applied and costs but a few cents per acre. One pound of DIPDUST will treat six bushels of seed corn, or from six to eight bushels of vegetable seed.
